

On Saturday October 14th some of our Members had a most enjoyable outing to Eagleswood , near Lenham. Wow what a place !. Two acres of many unusual trees and shrubs. Owned by Mike and Edith Darvill , they have planted all of the trees on the property during the past 26 years. Acid loam over flint and clay soil means the gardens contain many acid loving choices such as magnolias, acers and camellias. There is a great feeling of tranquillity walking through the shaded wooded areas. There are also many different varieties of Dahlias, Salvias , Hydrangas and Alpines on show too. Part of the National Garden Scheme the Garden will be open again from next May. We really recommend you visit.
